During the COVID-19 national disaster period Juta and Company Publishers extend permission to all prescribing lecturers to use our support material, available through our learning platform Passmasters (<https://jutapassmasters.co.za/learning/catalogue.php>), as part of the online learning solutions they may need to develop to continue teaching and learning with minimal disruption.

For lecturers* these include an assortment of PowerPoints, questions, solutions etc on selected titles.

Please contact us if you have a specific request we can assist with.*

For students these include a selection of free additional resources specific to your prescribed textbook. In addition, any other student may freely access the material in Student View, once registered. Access is free irrespective that they might be using another publisher's book.

E-chapters are also available for sale on the Juta Academic website. Click:
