IPA State of Publishing Reports

October 2020

State of Publishing Reports

12 October 2020

On Thursday 15 October at 11am the International Publishers Association launched a new set of seven reports looking at key aspects of the international publishing industry. They contain a wealth of information in these reports that publishers and publishers' associations around the world can use in their work and in their interactions with local governments.

Read all reports at: https://www.internationalpublishers.org/state-of-publishing-reports